What is All Pro Dad?

All Pro Dad is a breakfast meeting held once a month before school where fathers and their children meet with other dads and kids to enjoy a Chick-fil-A breakfast in the school cafeteria.

At this gathering we discuss a wide range of family topics, spend time together, have fun and equip each other with resources to strengthen our family relationships.

Each  breakfast is $5 and includes and includes one entrée, a side item and one drink. Pay at the door. Cash or check only. If paying by check, make check payable to Sugar Grove PIE.

Please note food is pre-ordered based on registration orders received. We cannot guarantee food if you do not fill out the online form.

About All Pro Dad at SGES

All Pro Dad (APD) Breakfasts provide an opportunity for the adults in a child's life to spend more time with each other and strengthen relationships. Everyone involved in APD is a parent-volunteer with children attending Sugar Grove Elementary. These volunteers generously give up work and personal time to plan, coordinate and host our monthly breakfasts. Your breakfast purchases allow us to provide a great meal, while allowing us to support our activities and prizes.

Your APD team leaders coordinate on the breakfast presentations, but additional volunteers are essential to continuing this great experience. Volunteers purchase and distribute the prizes, create and track registrations, and check you in when you arrive. The school graciously makes the cafeteria available to us and ensures you receive emails about our events.

If you'd like additional information on volunteer opportunities with APD, please let us know. You can with your team leaders at breakfast or send an email to allprodadsges@gmail.com.

The SGES group is a chapter of the national All Pro Dad organization. For more information on the national group, visit www.apd.com.

Thank you for your interest in All Pro Dad. We look forward to seeing you and your children for breakfast!
