

Honors/AP

Agenda:

- x Explanation of...
- x Pre-AP/ AP Track
- x Difference between AP/DC

What is AP?

- ★ Advanced Placement is a national program that provides students with the opportunity to earn college credit while in high school.
- ★ To earn college credit, students must take the AP exam and earn a specific score (3-5 points depending on various university standards).
- ★ The grade for the course counts on their high school transcript only.

What is AP?

- ★ AP teachers pride themselves on creating and maintaining academic rigorous standards.
- ★ Additionally, the score on the exam is separate from the class grade (score does not impact the grade).
- ★ At CGHS, most AP courses aren't offered until sophomore/junior/senior year.
 - Must meet prerequisites for AP course
 - Many require staff recommendation
 - Students may intermittently take AP courses throughout their HS careers.
 - Students also can take AP and dual credit courses.

So, how do the AP and EC Dual Credit compare?

	AP	Dual Credit
Affiliation	No affiliation to any university	Students are considered high school students and part-time Vincennes students
Grades	Do not transfer	Grades become part of the student's official college transcript if the student attends the credit issuing institution.
Weighted	Yes--all	Yes--majority
College Credit	Earning a 3-5 on exam. Each university varies in the amount of credit given. Coursework is nationally recognized.	A "C" or higher in the course earns the student college credit transcribed through VU.
Cost Savings	Most exams are paid by the state--tuition savings varies depending upon performance of exam.	$25-75 per credit hour. Compared to $200-400 credit hour at the university level.

So...what's the difference between EC, AP STGEC and AP?

	EC STGEC	AP STGEC	AP
Cohort	Cohort of 125 (ish)	No	No
Path	STGEC or Associate's Degree	STGEC	No path --Ala Carte
Credit Earned	Mostly dual credit with EC teachers	Mostly AP (6 classes must be through VU)	Only AP
