

March 2019 Students of the Month

Student	Staff Member	Why are you selecting this student?
Ioana	Aki	Connie Poston	Since being at CGHS Ioana has proven to be an excellent role model for those around her!
Adhitya	Balaji	Danielle Myers	Although I'm not sure I would trust Adhitya with my cell phone number, because he is super sneaky, he is one of the students I trust most here at C.G. He has developed an outstanding character and I can always rely on him to be helpful, honest, and prepared.
Sabrina	Bernard	Rebecca Gant	Sabrina has unfortunately been out of class many times this semester due to personal complications, but continuously shows good effort and her ability to be trusted to get her work completed in order to maintain a good grade. I can often count on Sabrina to come ask me questions over what she missed and complete work on her own. While I have missed having Sabrina in class with us, I know she is working hard to stay on top of her grades and I appreciate the level of responsibility she has demonstrated.
Hannah	Bilsland	Jennifer Casselman	Hannah is an Advanced Peer Tutor this semester and assists students in Nutrition and Wellness. Because of her hard work, this is the most successful semester my students have had in this class. She exhibits the quality of trustworthiness in many ways. I trust her to assist students in class with the appropriate amount of support - which is different for all students. I trust her to use her judgement when making modifications for students. I trust her ability to form relationships with students to assist them both academically and behaviorally. I trust her to complete tasks out of school to help with IEP updates, progress monitoring for goals, Peer Tutor assignments, and more. And perhaps one of the most important things I trust her with in this peer tutor role - maintaining confidentiality. She knows more about the students academic and behavior struggles than other students in class but I've never questioned her ability to keep confidential information private. It's been a huge help to have Hannah as a peer tutor this semester!
Zach	Blount	Jennifer Pickell	Zach is a wonderful young man that often goes above and beyond in the classroom. I can also rely on him to notify me when there is an issue with something. After a recent test, he alerted me to a test that had been turned in with no name.
Jenna	Boha	Meaghan Krukemeier	I am selecting Jenna as Student of the Month because I can always count on her for Class of 2020 things. She always makes sure little details are taken care of, and she will show up to almost anything! If we need something done, we just tell Jenna, as she is one of the most reliable people I know. Its hard to find students her age that exhibit this character trait, as many of them are not mature enough to be trusted with specific tasks. It is with great pleasure that I nominate Jenna for the March Character Trait of TRUSTWORTHINESS :)
Evan	Borszem	Greg Werner	In addition to being one of my hardest working Physics students, Evan has always displayed great integrity as challenges have been brought to him by the rigors of this class. I am honored to recommend him as March student of the month.
Corey	Briscoe	Angela Chaplin	I can always trust that Corey is going to follow through with anything that he tells me he is going to do. I never have to worry. He is always willing to help out when needed.
Sam	Brunsmann	Adam Gaff	I can always trust Sam to do the right thing.
Preston	Carroll	Josh Torres	Preston is a student that I can always count on to do the right thing. He is always where he needs to be and he always works hard! I have been very impressed with his growth this year. Of course, I am speaking about his growth as a player, but also his growth as a young man. I am excited for Preston to become the future of our music program.
Gracelyn	Clouser	Lindy Scott	Gracelyn is always kind and friendly. She works hard to accomplish all of her assignments on time and to satisfaction. She works really well with the Special Needs students and goes out of her way to help in anyway. Gracelyn is very deserving of Student of the Month!
Avrey	Cummings	Jennifer Dice	Avrey is the epitome of trustworthy behavior in a student. I can entrust any task to her and I know that it will be done and done well. Avrey is a leader by example both in and outside of the classroom. She is involved in church ministries, holds a part-time job and also manages excellent grades with extensive school involvement. Not only is Avrey trustworthy, she is an awesome student and friend to her classmates.
Carter	DeGraaf	Barbara Gnagy	Carter is an asset to his class in general. I admire Carter, because he is a genuine person. He's not afraid to toot his own horn when it's deserved, though he's never arrogant. He also recognizes and acknowledges areas for improvement in himself and sets to work on them.
Makayla	Dingman	Jonathan Rogers	Makayla always keeps her appointments to make up assessments. She is accountable when she borrows a book. When Makayla and I set a plan for her education, I can trust that she will follow through.
Aaron	Eaton	Jeff Buckmaster	Aaron is a straight forward person that when asked to do a task will do the task to the best of his ability. I can count on him to complete a task and do it correctly and on time.

March 2019 Students of the Month

Aaron	Eaton	Lesley McDougal	Aaron is one of the most honest students I've ever known; he is the definition of integrity and is trusted by students and teachers alike because of his honesty and authenticity. I will miss him next year!
Caitlin	Ebert	Michele De Luna	Caitlin is always diligent in her sense of fairness.
Noah	Ensley	Alan Hagedorn	With a curiosity and quest for what is true and real, Noah's openness and enthusiasm seem to be guiding him toward a life of great virtue. As historians craft the story of the past with the "rudder," it is the evidence -- what is true and can be seen -- that provide the "keel" and keep the craft upright. Noah is on this journey. :)
Carlota	Fernandez Garcia-Andrade	Lauren Widbin	As a foreign exchange student, Carlota is incredibly impressive. She displays trustworthiness and responsibility in everything she does. Recently, for a group presentation, Carlota took the role of leader. She was trusted by her group to coordinate and facilitate the work that needed to be done. She was trusted to communicate with me throughout that process, and I could easily trust that she was working hard and doing her best for the benefit of her group. Her reliability, communication, and ability to be honest with her peers, with herself, and with me stood out significantly. I am very grateful that she is with us this semester, and I am thankful for the positive example she sets for others!
John	Galt	Jane McMurrer	Steady as a rock!
Mackenzie	Gashti	James McAdams	Mackenzie works very hard to balance her CGHS schedule and C9 schedule, and she has to make special arrangements to finish labs and missed work. She is very trustworthy and reliable in getting her work done.
Abby	Green	Stuckmeyer	Abby is a very genuine and trustworthy student. She does what is asked and has always built trust within our classroom among her fellow peers and teachers. She can always be counted on.
Tatum	Hacker	Andrea Teevan	Tatum goes above and beyond not only in the classroom but also as a Hosa club leader. She always leads by example and I believe she's an example for others.
Andrew	Harrell	Troy Dice	I can always trust that Andrew has his work completed and put in the extra time and effort required to perform at a high level in Calculus class. Great young man that exemplifies hard work and dedication!
Danielle	Harrell	Karen Fruits	Anytime I need help in my classroom the first student I look to is Danielle. The reason is that since the beginning of the school year I have found her to be very trustworthy. Whenever a student needs help going to the nurse or when a student needs help and I need to call for the nurse (both of which happened this year), I use Danielle as my helper since I know I can trust her to help in any situation!
Andrew	Hodges	Cindy Coakley-Vida	In Star, Andrew chooses to participate in 2 extra-curricular clubs. He consistently remembers to go to meetings for Koppi and Interact, both of which are not announced, but he is always there. I almost don't need to check attendance since he is so reliable, and he is supporting worthy interests!
Caitlin	Hubbs	Summer Ehresman	Caitlin is extremely trustworthy - she is a student I can rely upon when we have a sub - I know the sub can ask questions of and I know she will tell the truth. She is honest about herself and her work. And not only do I trust her, but she is someone other students trust as well.
Jonathon	Jeffries	Julie Coyne	Jonathon is a wonderful young man. He friendly to all and is always helpful! Way to go Jonathon!!
Kaitlin (E.)	Kennedy	Stephanie Paul	As I think about the character trait we are focusing on this month, Kaitlin Kennedy came to mind immediately. This month we are highlighting "trustworthiness" and I feel Kaitlin and I have developed a strong mutual trust over the past two years we have worked together and I could not be more proud
Reese	Koenig	Cynthia Cullom	I have been impressed with Reese this semester in my psychology class. He had a major project due and did not turn it in on time but took the time to talk to me about why he could not submit his project on time. I appreciated his honesty in sharing why he is late with this assignment.
Taylor	Lambert	Holly Hirsch-White	Taylor can always be trusted to do what needs to get done. She comes in my room during study hall and works diligently to complete any assignments that she needs to finish. She has also joined our Unified Track team and I trust that she will do her best athletically and that she will be accepting of all the students regardless of their abilities. I am glad to know her!
Isabelle	Larocque	Chris Frampton	Every time we select a "student of the month" for a certain characteristic, I think of Isabelle! So many times she is one of my top choices! Responsibility, cooperation, caring, respect, acceptance...I would heartily endorse her for all of these characteristics! When it came to Trustworthy, I knew she stood alone! I have every confidence that «Belle» is such a sincere, honest, down-to-earth person that everyone finds easy to talk to and to be around. I feel that her friends know that she will not join in the drama that is so prevalent in high school and that she is sincere, mature, and trustworthy! Félicitations, Belle!
Donovan	McGowan	Michael Fellow	Donovan is the one I trust the most in my star class. I trust him to run errands, because he will complete the task well. His friends trust him to be true to them and who they are.
Caroline	McNamee	Nicholas Lyon	Caroline demonstrates excellent integrity & can be trusted!

March 2019 Students of the Month

Andreas	Mullendore	Joseph Lapka	Even though he is just a freshmen, Andreas has already demonstrated a trustworthiness that is beyond his years. As the only french horn in Symphonic Band he is responsible for carrying the entire part. I can always trust him to be prepared and to work hard to fix areas that are important for the ensemble. Outside of class, Andreas can always be trusted to do the right thing and set a great example for everyone around him. He is an excellent student and always a pleasure to teach!
Will	Pack	Debbie Nolan	Will Pack was a wonderful student in my law class and has been an active member of Business Professionals of America. This year Will is our club President and has done a phenomenal job! I can trust that any task I ask him to complete will be done well and by the deadline. He has prepared our newsletters, planned and lead our meetings, and worked well with our other officers. He is a trustworthy and responsible student who works hard and aims for success in everything he does and he is involved in many extra-curricular activities at CGHS. He has been a great leader and role model to our younger members. Congratulations on being a March student of the month!
Smit	Patel	Wes Dodson	Smit always tells the truth. If he forgets a homework he owns up to it. If he does something wrong he tells you. He's a great kid!
Megan	Perry	Eric Moore	Megan , daily represents all students by her willingness to help and assist students and teachers. She is a true student role model and displays the highest value of character. She can be trusted and works diligently in class and always respects all she comes in contact .
Kathryn	Powell	Eric Howe	Kathryn has been in my DC classes for 2 years and also serves as my TA. She is academically motivated in the classroom and I can count on her as my TA to assist younger students in the classes she has already taken. Kathryn is the type of your person I would trust to watch my own children.
Liam	Price	Kelly A McCarry	Liam has been a part of the Special Olympics Johnson County for years. After hearing about his journey towards leadership with the Special Olympics, I am choosing Liam as a prime example of Trustworthiness. As he began to understand just exactly what the organization meant to him, he was asked to become a leader. Liam will begin speaking on behalf of the organization across the state. He has become a trustworthy part of SOJC and will go on to help future athletes as they begin their journey.
Milly	Rathburn-Hall	Shawn Michael San	Milly plays the mom role more than anyone I've ever seen. She is a positive role model to all of her friends and makes sure they do what they need to do.
Amanda	Rundkvist	Drew Garrison	Amanda has done an excellent job all year of being a polite and trustworthy student. I trust her to help out other students who are struggling with material.
Mason	Runkle	Katie DeArmitt	Since his freshman year, Mason has always been a responsible, respectful student—one who I can always trust as point person for not only class but also for STaR when I am gone. Beyond that, he works diligently on his work, always wanting to give his best effort.
Krystal	Rush	Ashlee Vitz	Krystal is one of the most trustworthy students I have ever known. She is always honest with me and with herself when she needs help. She can always be relied on to be truthful and have a great deal of integrity. She is a delight to have in the classroom and I am overjoyed to give her this award.
Daniel	Russell	Brad Timmon	Daniel earned his Eagle Scout this past month...the first point in the Scout Law is Trustworthy. Seems fitting...and he's a good kid.
Clarissa	Russell	Mike Bishop	She is super kind, awesome, and I trust her as the best TA ever.
Emerson	Salyers	Mr. Riley	From the conversations I've had with Emerson, it is obvious that she is trustworthy. I also see other student confide in her and this demonstrates that they trust her as well.
Kaitlyn	Schroeder	Trina Veerkamp	She is my student aide this semester. I can absolutely trust her to do anything for me. She works tirelessly for me and never complains about what I ask her to do. She saves me lots of time with those pesky secretarial duties. She is great.
Zoe	Scott	Courtney Gradert	Zoe is one of the kindest most genuine students I know. She works hard and always advocates for herself. The ability to keep her grades up, work, and be in color guard full time is amazing. I am truly blessed that I have gotten to know her and am so proud of her!
Leanna	Sequeira	Ryan Spoonmore	Leanna works very hard, is diligent with her work, and has a wonderful attitude. However, it is the trait of being trustworthy that is so special regarding Leanna. Trustworthiness is defined as the ability to be relied on as honest or truthful. Additionally, Merriam-Webster lists the following as synonyms: dependable, good, reliable, responsible, solid, steady, devoted, faithful, loyal, and steadfast. Every one of these descriptors define who Leanna is in her core-being, and there is not one single thing that I would not trust her with because I have observed this character trait the whole year. From day #1 Leanna has displayed a steadfastness and reliability with the maturity level of a grown adult and I am very proud of her ability to stay focused and not let the wrong crowd bring her down. Leanna, young lady, you are such a wonderful person. I am grateful and honored to have gotten to know you this year. Your future is so very bright and I can't wait to see what great things you will accomplish as you move forward in life. You are such a well-rounded and solid human being, and you have so much to offer others. Keep being that positive light and "trustworthy" person.
Zach	Sheley	Tasha Vessely	He is a very helpful student for our Tech Team.
Tori	Spencer	Karen Gerhart	She is always a careful, on-task student in English 9. She cares about the work she is doing and often asks questions that the entire class can benefit from. Great effort in English 9, Tori!
Mickey	Turpin	Lindsay Miller	Mickey is an exceptional student. He comes to school, works hard, and does not allow others to influence him to make poor choices. In a recent conversation, it was very evident that Mickey is very trustworthy.

March 2019 Students of the Month

Anika	Vinard	Carol Galyan	Anika has always gone above and beyond in my class. With the Chili cook off last week, she totally took over the managing part! I felt very comfortable with the direction she was giving the students!
Emma	Wagner	Ryan Hendryx	Emma does an excellent job in my class. I am able to trust her to stay on task the entire class period and work to complete her assignments on time and with maximum effort. She will also help other students with any questions they may have if we are working on a group assignment.
Emma	West	Chad Daniels	Emma is a hard worker and very dependable. I'd trust her to watch my own children.
Andrew	Wiese	Amy Wingler	AJ is an all around great kid. In PreCalc, I can trust him to do his work and help others. He works hard in class and comes in to work on PreCalc during his study hall. In power club, AJ is my son's coach. He does a great job with the first/second graders and pushes them to get better.
Dane	Young	Melissa Warner	Dane is a pleasure to have in class. He is always respectful, and he participates by asking questions, working with his group and engaging in class discussions. He is a leader in the classroom, and he knows when to have fun and when to be serious. There are few students who make better use of work time than Dane. If we are writing an essay, Dane works the whole class period, using the time to not only write his essay but also to seek help. He genuinely wants to learn and understand the material, not just get it done to check it off his to-do list.
Kiley	Yovanoff	Joe Siderewicz	Kiley is the perfect example of trustworthiness. She has been trusted by our school administration to be a leader at school convocations, she is a positive role model in our school, and is always prepared in the classroom. Kiley leads by example during class. She is always engaged in the lesson, strives to do her best on every assignment and shows enthusiasm for the subject. Kiley's attitude and behavior at all times makes her a person that everyone can trust!
